Happy Birthday My Love

Dear Felix,

The love of my life, my soon to be husband and father of my children this is me wishing you the happiest birthday you've ever had as you turn 29 today. I look forward to seeing you grow from this tall, dark and handsome man you currently are to being old and wrinkly with me in your arms lol.

Over the years I have watched you grow since 21 in spirituality, skill, finance, academics, career and every area of your life up till now and may the Lord who made this happen continually keep watch over you in Jesus name.

Our Love Story

Sometimes I think about how things could have turned out differently if we both hadn't come to Casor and never met. Would we have met somewhere else, or was that the only chance we would have ever gotten to cross paths and end up with each other?

I sometimes ponder on these questions. I guess I would never know the answers, but who cares so far, I've got my answered prayers in you.

Yes, Felix, you are an answered prayer in different ramifications. I'm happy I am doing forever with you soon and count it as one of the blessings and privileges God gave me to do life with you.

Happy birthday to the Love of my life, ololufe mii, Oriade mii, Akintola mii

US OVER THE YEARS

From Ice Cream

Never knew life could be as simple as going on a Easter hangout with friends to licking ice cream staring into the eyes of a stranger I never knew I'd grow close to or much more knowing the stranger will become an integral part of my life.

So cheers to us going from being strangers licking ice cream in 2018 to being best of friends and me saying Yes to doing life with this former stranger called Felix Akintola.

We went from being 19 and 21 respectively to being 26 and 29 now hence this Magazine curation dedicated to you being called The Love Issue vol 29 cuz yeah we basically grew together and I look forward to the years we get to be together surpass the years we've been apart by far.

Cheers to more growth with you babe

REMEMBER THESE TIMES WHEN....

We made things official and we were starting to be more than just Bible study coordinator and church member to being an item

We were two broke students just having fun in our own way and loving up on each other 🥰

When we had our first dance during your graduation period. You didn't mind my horrible make up and thought I was the most beautiful girl that day

REMEMBER THESE TIMES WHEN....

You went for NYSC and we thought it was officially over due to the long distance

Only for us to realize we made a mistake and we were definitely meant to be so we came back together

You came back to FUTA for your Masters Degree and we both went in deep on our tech journey together with you by my side all through the way

REMEMBER THESE TIMES WHEN....

I was there to capture every moment for you including funny ones like this where the world class dev sleeps off while coding

We spent most nights in the school hub sharpening our skills in AI and Software Engineering respectively.

Those sleepless nights paid off with us both getting our dream roles as techies and gradually we stopped being the broke university students as we experienced growth in our career and finance

REMEMBER THESE TIMES WHEN....

I was with you through every seasons including the down times during the passing of your dad

You came back to be my final year dinner date just like how I was yours some years back when you were graduating.

You met my family and was welcome with open hands

REMEMBER THESE TIMES WHEN....

You saw me serve. And with each growth we were more mature and our love blossomed into something more beautiful

We both strived in our careers as techies couples

Love Issue Vol 29.

You graduated from your Masters Program

SOME OF OUR WONDERFUL MOMENTS TOGETHER

P.S it was hard doing this compilation because even after 8 years together I'm just realizing every of your picture has me inside of it

SOME OF OUR WONDERFUL MOMENTS TOGETHER

NOW I CAN'T WAIT TO DO LIFE FOREVER WITH YOU AS YOUR WIFEY

Saying Yes to you was one of the best day of my life and Thank you for giving me a wonderful proposal.

REASONS WHY I LOVE YOU

YOU ARE KIND

01

Remember when we became friends and I told you that you were the type of man I'll like to end up with even though we weren't dating then. You might have forgotten but yeah your kind nature is one that can't be ignored.

YOU EMBODY CHRIST

02

We met in a church settings but that's not how I saw your christ-like nature. It reflects from your actions, your words, and non-judgemental ways. There is a whole lot to learn from you regarding Christinity.

YOU ARE INTENTIONAL

03

I've seen you go out of your way to satisfy me and many others even at your own expenses. It can only be your intentionality and kind nature that can fuel that and this is also seen by others that are around you.

YOU GET ME LIKE NO OTHER

04

We started talking since 2018 and up till now you are my best buddy in sharing every details of my life with. Even through our misunderstandings you remain my best friend and right hand pal I totally trust.

YOU ARE A HANDSOME NERD

05

Have you heard yourself speak on a topic especially in tech, christainty and other topics you are knowledgable in?

You make me want to plant a kiss on your lips cos you look hot when you talk about it.

You are also the best Software Engineer ever

PRAYERS FOR YOU

AS YOU TURN THIS NEW AGE I PRAY THE LORD

Grants you all that your heart desires

All your disappointments and unmet expectations shall come to you in this new age

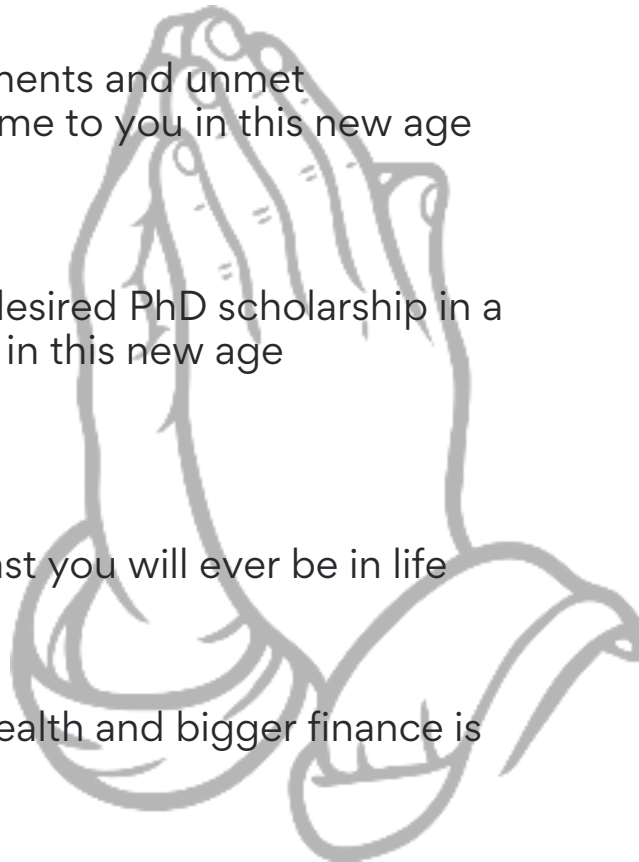

You shall have your desired PhD scholarship in a foreign country soon in this new age

These shall be the least you will ever be in life

More wealth, great health and bigger finance is yours in Jesus name

We shall have our desired wedding, honeymoon and a wonderful marriage with a great family together.

We shall travel the world together and do more for christ till kingdom comes
